PROFILE

Product leader with nine years in data and AI across fintech, ESG and insurance, on a foundation in finance. I help companies turn AI and data into working products, not strategy decks. I find the opportunity, structure the problem, define the roadmap, then build and ship it end to end.

SELECTED EXPERIENCE

AI and Data Product Lead

2025–Present

Toussaint Consulting · Freelance

I build and ship AI agents and data products that scale operations, raise data reliability and open new revenue.

International insurance group · Document extraction

- Led the digital launch and commercialization of new insurance products across e-commerce and partner platforms.
- Designed and delivered an AI document-extraction product turning unstructured documents into reliable insurance-guarantee data, combining LLMs, rule-based logic and RPA, with human review for critical data.

Outsourced mobile app development agency

- Built an end-to-end AI lead-generation and qualification system, from data sourcing to sales activation. Cut qualification time by 95%.

Lead Product Manager

2020–2025

SESAMm · Paris

Owned product strategy for TextReveal, an AI and data platform used by asset managers to detect ESG controversies and monitor reputational risk.

- Owned the roadmap for a data platform processing 30 million documents a day with NLP and LLMs, turning unstructured text into signals asset managers act on.
- Launched AI controversy detection and semantic search, improving signal discovery and cutting analysts' manual research.
- Built the data and model experimentation foundations behind continuous improvement and faster feature delivery.
- Partnered with ESG analysts to turn domain expertise into product features and models, and led two product managers.
